

CAMP CARYSBROOK The First Hundred Years

1923-2023

- Contents 3
- Dedication 5
- Preface 7
- The Camping Movement 9
- The Foundation 10
- The Founders 11
- Camp Carysbrook at Wytheville 12
- The Move to Riner 14
- The 1930s 15
- The 1940s and 25th Anniversary 18
- 1948: A Tribute to Peace 22
- The 1950s 24
- The Camp Carysbrook Logo Through the Years 26
- The River and Lake Katherine 28
- The 1960s 29
- The 1970s 30
- The 1980s 32
- The 1990s 33
- The 2000s 34
- The 2010s 36
- The 2020s 38
- Portation through the Years 40
- Animals of Carysbrook 42
- Portation through the Years 43
- Animals 44
- Portation through the Years 46
- Animals 48
- Portation through the Years 49
- Animals 52

DEDICATION

of campers, counselors, staff, and supporters who have woven Carysbrook's history with their laughter, loyalty, and steadfast belief in the 24149 to change the world for girls and women.

of cherished memories and transformative experiences, this lives touched by the magic of Camp Carysbrook. To the girls and friendships that endured, and carried on the spirit that dedicated to you.

serve as a reminder that Camp Carysbrook is more than a sanctuary where dreams are nurtured, confidence is the passage of time.

ine and Caperton Preston, whose vision sparked the laughman who rekindled the flame, to all the directors here, and to the generations of campers and staff who celebrate the present, and embrace the future of laughter, and growth. May the embers of campfire and Brown continue to resound through the spirit of Camp Carysbrook.

McAdams, Polly Aultman, Cary Baldwin and Caperton Preston the summer camps. Yet, the rise of the Southern suraged elite daughters of the South to be more ore 1950 exposed a select core of Southern that differed from Southern tradition. Many as that challenged male supremacy and attracted he opportunity to attend camp became essential ated women's strength and independence. They n of camp life, which gave them the opportunity opriety. Parents sent their daughters to summer protected girls from frivolous, sinful leisure niques in education. Camp life offered new skills, developed new interests, and ffered considerably from those of traditional Girls' Camping Movement in the American South,
c. 1920-1950. Sally Stanhope, (DM Verlag 2010)

